A photographic presentation by Varol Karslioglu (in English)

On: March 15th, 2010 (Monday) at 7:00PM

At: Library and Archives Canada

395 Wellington Street, Room A, Ottawa

(Reception to follow)

Is Canada:

- The biggest and most complicated social club of the planet?
- A piece of earth conserved for future generations?
- A sociological lab in which tomorrow's multicultural, peaceful society is simulated and tested?
- A nation still in formation?

Maybe, the real answer is a composition of all. Or, you have a completely different idea.

Why are we here?

A giant invisible magnet called hope.

Why the world needs a Canada?

Canada: the world's lifeboat.

We invite you to think about these provoking questions in order to understand the identity, past, present and the future of our Canada by attending Pictures Witness Canada
